

Example of proceeding layout written in English (centered and using 14-size font)

* Jang Keun-Suk^{1,2}, Kim Yu-Na¹⁻³, Rikou Taro⁴, Khemanit Jamikorn^{2,3} (1Department of Biomaterials, Kyungpook National University, 2Department of Operative Dentistry, Kyungpook National University, 3Dankook University, Graduate school of Medicine, 4Department of Oral and Maxillofacial Surgery, Kyungpook National University)

The aim of this document was to show the layout of the proceeding for the annual meeting of the Japanese Society for Dental Materials and Devices in English. This English abstract shall be less than 100 words. Times New Roman should be used as English plain font and its size should be 11 except the title and subtitle. The font size of the title and subtitle in the main text is 12. After the English abstract, the English contents should be written in double column. The template is ready to prepare the proceeding in the correct format.

[Introduction]

This template is temporarily prepared for a proceeding for the annual meeting of the Japanese Society for Dental Materials and Devices in English. Your abstract will be offset printed as the proceeding for the meeting. Please follow the instructions of this document. For reader's convenience, please underline the aim of your study and findings.

[Materials and Methods]

Please send your proceeding as a Microsoft Word file (Word.docx format). Please indent the first sentence of each chapter and paragraph. The authors name will be listed your first name and family name as the example of this layout. Your affiliation name is listed only the name of your university or institute. The author, who will present this proceeding, will be added an "" mark. This "" mark will be converted a circle.

Please write your proceeding within one A4 page. Please try to make your proceeding without a lot of white spaces. Please write your title justified center. In the main text, [Introduction], [Materials and Methods], [Results], and [Discussion] should be described. [Results and Discussion] or [References] are optional.

In [Results] (or [Results and Discussion]), put the conclusion of your study with underlines.

Your proceeding might be subjected for editorial corrections by the editorial committee of J J Dent Mater to adjust the format.

[Results]

Figure, picture and table should be located in single column. The resolution and width of the figures and pictures are expected to be greater than 300 dpi, and 70 –

75 mm, respectively. Insert the figures and pictures in your document file using gray scale with the title of the figures and pictures. Please be careful so that the size of your proceeding doc file is less than 2 MB.

[Discussion]

Proceeding for the special issue of the Journal of the Japanese Society for Dental Materials and Devices will be compiled from each regional society. Please submit your manuscript in Microsoft Word and PDF file in accordance with the registration procedures of each regional meeting, and the name of submitted file should be cited author name Please note that the Japanese Society for Dental Materials and Devices does not accept abstracts.

[References]

If it is necessary to cite references, please describe references following the style as follows:

- 1) Heisei I, Showa T, Taisho H. English main title and subtitle. Dent Mater J 2011; 30: 123-145.
- 2) Heisei I et al. English main title and subtitle. Dent Mater J 2011; 30: 123-145.
- 3) Heisei I et al. Dent Mater J 2011; 30: 123-145.

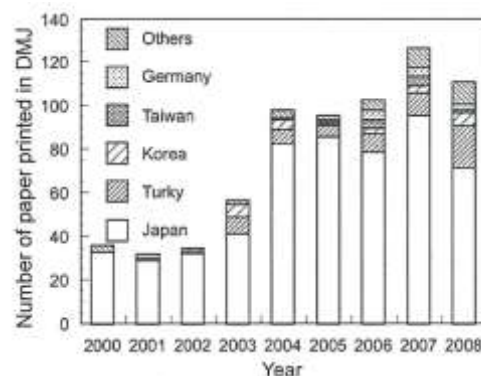

Fig.1 Figure legend